

Avo Mix

Complete, all-purpose nutrition for healthy avocado trees

Along with nutrients essential for healthy growth, Avo Mix is specifically formulated to include trace elements to promote yield while eliminating any chance of chloride toxicity.

Key Benefits

Meets nutrient requirements during growth periods

Avo Mix is formulated to meet the nutrients needed by avocados during periods of active growth and fruit production.

Contains trace elements

Avo Mix contains trace elements like boron, zinc, and manganese which avocados need to grow and produce well.

Completely chloride-free

While avocados need the trace elements listed above to grow well, they are particularly sensitive to chloride. Since growth and yield can be badly affected by chloride, Avo Mix is completely chloride-free.
