

Citrus Mix

A balanced blend of nutrients for citrus

Citrus Mix contains all the essential nutrients in quantities specifically needed by citrus for healthy growth and yield.

Key Benefits

A blend designed specifically for citrus

Citrus needs a lot of nitrogen to support healthy tree growth, to flower and to set fruit. It also needs phosphorus for fruit quality, and potassium for fruit development and size. Sulphur and magnesium are particularly important for fruit yield. That's why Citrus Mix is a carefully formulated blend of all these nutrients. It's a single product designed to enhance both tree growth and fruit yield.

Suits any type of citrus

Another advantage of Citrus Mix is that it can be used with any type of citrus. Whether it's lemons, limes, grapefruit, oranges, or mandarins, Citrus Mix provides what they need.

Application

Apply at 400g per tree, monthly during spring and autumn, directly under trees.

Storage

Store in a cool, dry, well-ventilated place out of direct sunlight.
